ROCHESTER YOUTH YEAR

10TH ANNIVERSARY IMPACT REPORT

A LETTER FROM THE DIRECTOR

When I became the first full-time director of the Rochester Center for Community Leadership in 2008, we had just been awarded the AmeriCorps VISTA grant to support Rochester Youth Year, a new initiative that sought to reconnect universities with local organizations. I myself served with VISTA in the state of Wyoming and as a Peace Corps volunteer in Bolivia. These first-hand experiences with national service programs have been crucial to understanding the challenges and rewards of this work. We now have the privilege of partnering with 16 members and host sites, a number that has grown from three, in our pilot year in 2007.

As we celebrate our 10th Anniversary this year, I continue to be amazed at how committed our fellows are to community-based work. VISTA has helped sharpen this focus toward capacity building projects and brings over half a century of experience in design and implementation of sustainable initiatives, which we have greatly benefited from. The work of alleviating poverty in the community is complex and challenging. It is not something that any one person, or even one organization, can do alone.

Rochester Youth Year is built on collaborative relationships and mutually beneficial partnerships with community organizations, area colleges, funders, and community members. Our fellows learn how to collaborate effectively and to be resourceful in the face of myriad obstacles. We've been very successful in creating a strong cohort-based model for leadership development, and as a result, we've achieved high rates of retention through the fellowship and beyond. Many RYY fellows choose to stay in or return to Rochester to pursue their careers. With almost 100 alums of the program, we have developed a critical mass of leaders and change makers in Rochester and around the world.

My greatest satisfaction with our program is seeing the trajectories of our alumni, and where their lives have led them: a medical doctor who is now specializing in refugee health care, a social media specialist for the local NPR affiliate, entrepreneurs, lawyers, researchers and Peace Corps volunteers. All of their careers are informed by this experience, and they give me hope for the future of this community and any community that they will inhabit. Thank you to all of our partners and funders for enabling us to flourish over these 10 years!

OUR VISION

We envision a future where poverty in the Rochester community is not a barrier to health, economic, or educational success.

OUR MISSION

We engage and empower local graduates to strengthen the capacity of community agencies, in order to better serve the Rochester area.

OUR STRATEGY

We have set the following five priorities in order to achieve our mission:

1. Recruit talented and qualified graduates from local institutions to partake in an impactful and developmental year of national service.
2. Build capacity and sustainable systems for local organizations to allow them to enhance the efficiency and effectiveness of their initiatives.
3. Garner and leverage community buy-in for AmeriCorps VISTA and national service to increase impact.
4. Foster a strong alumni network to provide substantive personal and professional connections for Rochester Youth Year VISTA members.
5. Conduct thorough assessments to accurately measure RYY VISTA Impact, in alignment with a collective impact framework.

A NATIONAL SERVICE PROGRAM

The Corporation for National and Community Service is a U.S. federal agency that engages more than 5 million Americans in service through its core programs: Senior Corps and AmeriCorps.

AmeriCorps, in turn, engages more than 75,000 Americans in intensive service each year with community agencies across the country. AmeriCorps VISTA (Volunteers in Service to America) focuses on building the capacity of local organizations to meet community needs.

For 51 years, VISTA helped bring communities and individuals out of poverty. Today, approximately 8,000 VISTA members serve in hundreds of nonprofit organizations and public agencies throughout the country. Members provide indirect, capacity-building service to support sustainable solutions to poverty while receiving a monthly stipend, an education award, and other health and subsistence support.

Since its inception, Rochester Youth Year has placed 93 talented recent graduates from Rochester-area colleges at community-based organizations for one year to create or expand initiatives that alleviate the effects of poverty on Rochester youth and families. Rochester Youth Year has been sponsored by AmeriCorps VISTA since 2008. Thank you to CNCS and AmeriCorps VISTA for enabling us to thrive!
